

Wounds International Conference 1-3 February 2011

Share experiences, identify challenges and be part of charting a path to success

The first Wounds International Conference will bring together the global wound care community to focus on how we can improve the provision of wound management services worldwide, use relevant tools to inform practice, and educate all those who attend through the sharing of clinical experiences. Our goal is to highlight variations in practice across different geographies, identify challenges to delivering effective wound care and present a plan to begin to address the issues.

International speakers will include:

John MacDonald (US), Gary Sibbald (Canada), Gregory Weir (SA), Zee Upton (Aus), Keith Harding (UK), LK Shankhdhar (India), Xiaobing Fu (China), Bishara Atiyeh (Middle East) and other key experts from around the world.

In addition, our major sponsors are supporting interactive 'made easy' sessions on:

- Wound Assessment and Diagnosis
- Impact of Environment and Lack of Resources
- Management of Wound Exudate
- Identifying and Managing Wound Infection
- Setting up a Wound Clinic
- Management of Lower Limb Oedema.

Further 'made easy' sessions will include Pressure Ulcer Prevention and Management, Compression Bandaging and Hosiery, Offloading and the Diabetic Foot and Ask The Expert. These sessions will offer international debate and hands-on experience, maximising delegate involvement in the event.
